VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR
UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, RENO, NEVADA

On October 7, 1971, a confidential source advised that on October 6, 1971, a group calling themselves the Veterans for Peace held a meeting in the Student Union Building on campus at the University of Nevada at Reno, Nevada.

During the course of the meeting it was announced that the purpose of the group was to bring about an end of the war. In addition, the name of the group was changed to the Congregation for Peace in order to attract students who were not veterans.

Approximately 42 people were in attendance, 15 of which were females. No definite date was set for the next meeting.

A [redacted] (first name unknown) [redacted] and (first name [redacted]) [redacted] (phonetic) appeared to be the leaders of the group. b7c b7c On October 13, 1971, a second confidential source advised that [redacted] and [redacted] were connected with the Veterans for Peace group.

Robert Malone, Chief of Police, University of Nevada, Reno, Nevada, advised that [redacted] were currently enrolled, but [redacted] was not a student at the University. b7c

On the evening of October 22, 1971, a group calling themselves the Committee to End the War in Vietnam staged a candlelight parade in Reno, Nevada.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR

Approximately 150 youths participated. The parade began at the University of Nevada, Reno, Nevada, at about 8:12 PM and proceeded downtown through the casino area of the city and culminated at the Washoe County Courthouse, where the group disbanded at approximately 9:15 PM.

There was no violence, no arrests were made, and no property was damaged.

The "Nevada State Journal", a daily newspaper published in Reno, Nevada, issue October 19, 1971, reflected that Bill Ellis, a representative of the Committee to End the War in Vietnam secured the parade permit for the above march.

On February 7, 1972, <sup>MEMBERS OF</sup> Robert Malone, Chief of Police, University of Nevada, Reno, Nevada, advised that a group calling themselves the Committee to End the War in Vietnam was attempting to gain status as an official campus group at the University. He advised the following were associated with this group:

b7c [REDACTED] is the only individual not enrolled in the University.

At approximately 11:00 AM on April 21, 1972, an anti-war rally sponsored by the Vietnam Veterans Against the War was held on campus at the University of Nevada, Reno, Nevada. Approximately 150 students were in attendance, at which time speeches protesting the war were given by students and faculty members.

[REDACTED]

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR
UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, RENO, NEVADA

Joseph Ratliff, student, spoke and ended his speech by stating, "Let's go down to the recruiting offices on Fourth Street and raise hell".

The group marched to downtown Reno and gathered in front of the recruiting offices of all branches of the armed forces located at Fourth and Virginia Streets, Reno, Nevada. They chanted anti-war slogans in the area until approximately 1:25 PM when they returned to the campus.

The demonstration was peaceful, no arrests were made, and no property was damaged.

Robert Malone, Chief of Police, previously mentioned, advised none of the aforementioned groups have University sanction. He stated he believed they had no organizational structure as such, and merely assumed whatever name served their purpose of the particular activities they wished to engage in at that time. He stated he believed they had no slated officers, and no permanent headquarters.

The "Nevada State Journal" issue of March 25, 1972, carries an article captioned "Do Ideas Die" signed by the following:

Joseph Ratliff
William Ellis
Kenneth Bishop
Michael Powell
Joe Carter

The above individuals described themselves as veterans of Vietnam conflict. The article states the undersigned, set out above, speaking with some knowledge of what is taking place in Indo-China and the horror that the United States is doing in Vietnam. United States action is increased air bombardment of Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia with a substantial increase in civilian casualties.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR (VVAW)

On April 24, 1972, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that VVAW would stage a demonstration in the form of a guerrilla theater at Tulane University Alumni Center, New Orleans, Louisiana, during the appearance of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and/or unidentified Generals at that location at 3:00 PM, April 24, 1972. According to information available [redacted] these New Orleans demonstrators planned to attack the building with water balloons filled with red dye and toy M-16 rifles. 67D

A second confidential source, who has also furnished reliable information in the past, advised on May 2, 1972, that on the evening of Monday, April 24, 1972, an ad hoc meeting was held at Tulane University's Student Center, apparently called by students and former general sympathizers of New Left activities in New Orleans. The meeting's purpose was to organize an anti-war activity around the visit of several high-ranking Mexican military visitors on the campus. 67C

About fifteen individuals were at the meeting to plan those activities, and most were students. Those recognized were [redacted] PETER MAHONEY, GYASCHAFER, [redacted] and [redacted] (SCHAFER is a well-known New Left leader in New Orleans, MAHONEY is a local advocate of VVAW, and [redacted] had shown interest in high school Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) in 1969.) 67C

b7D

On February 28, 1972, [REDACTED] advised that on February 24, 1972, a meeting was held at 53 Wall Street, New Haven, Connecticut, with twenty-three persons attending representing the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW). Also at the meeting were two people, male and female not further identified, who represented a group known as Number Nine, which is quartered in a building on State Street between Chapel and Crown Streets in New Haven, Connecticut. These two individuals told the group that Number Nine provides therapy and advice for runaways, alcoholics, drug addicts, possible suicide cases and anyone else who has a problem that they would like to talk about. These two individuals went on to say that they have been inoperative during the past several months while they remodeled their quarters, and that they would be willing to rent a space to the VVAW for $200.00 a month with the stipulation that there be no liquor or drugs on the premises, and that the VVAW does not attempt to levy their political opinions on the Number Nine group or anyone receiving assistance from the Number Nine group.

The Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) was founded in the spring of 1967 by six young Vietnam veterans in New York City. At the beginning of 1968, with 600 members, the VVAW opened a national office, founded the first GI newspaper "Vietnam GI", and sent close to 500 veterans into the MC CARTHY campaign to beat down the red baiters. After getting gassed at the Democratic Convention in Chicago and caught in the general "down" of the peace movement, the VVAW was nearly inactive until the moratoriums in the fall of 1969. Members of the VVAW led student strikes on major campuses across the country and battled Veterans Administration Hospital authorities over threats to throw amputee Vietnam veterans out for signing anti-war petitions. At present, membership of the VVAW nationally, consists of 8,500 members.

On April 28, 1972, an article entitled "Number Nine Opens Today" appeared on Page 3 of the Yale Daily News, a newspaper published daily by Yale University students at New Haven, Connecticut. This article contained information that the Number Nine Counseling Center would reopen on May 1, 1972, under remodeled conditions. This remodeling was necessary as the premises used by Number Nine had been found in violation of the New Haven Building Code, and it was necessary to renovate the heating system, wiring, plumbing and fire escape system. The article contained a statement by the Executive Board of Number Nine, DENNIS JAFFEY, TED CLARK, SHEILA GAGE and BARBARA SMITH, to the New Haven community, in which these individuals said that they were attempting to cope with the problem of loneliness and depression of youths, as well as more dramatic personal crises, such as running away from home and attempted suicide. The executive board said that in an effort to combat these problems they provided a twenty-four hour telephone "hot line", individuals and group counseling, residences for young people needing a temporary place to live, and research on topics ranging from drug use to alternative life styles. The executive board further advised that they would not charge for their services because most of the fifty staff members of Number Nine are volunteers and non-professional, and that the total yearly salaries for operating costs for Number Nine was $30,000.00. The board concluded its statement by saying that their major financial problem was completing payment on the cost of renovations, which was $40,000.00, of which $10,000.00 has yet to be paid.

Additional sources were contacted and were unable to furnish information indicating that Number Nine is connected with extremist activity.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR (VVAW)

On April 24, 1972, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that VVAW would stage a demonstration in the form of a guerrilla theater at Tulane University Alumni Center, New Orleans, Louisiana, during the appearance of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and/or unidentified Generals at that location at 3:30 PM April 24, 1972. According to information available [redacted] these New Orleans demonstrators planned to "attack" the building with water balloons filled with red dye and toy M-16 rifles. 8u

A second confidential source, who has also furnished reliable information in the past, advised on May 2, 1972, that on the evening of Monday, April 24, 1972, an ad hoc meeting was held at Tulane University's Student Center, apparently called by students and former general sympathizers of New Left activities in New Orleans. The meeting's purpose was to organize an anti-war activity around the visit of several high-ranking Mexican military visitors on the campus. U

About fifteen individuals were at the meeting to plan those activities. Most were students. Those recognized were [redacted] PETE MAHONEY, G. SCHAFER, [redacted] and [redacted] (SCHAFER is a well-known New Left leader in New Orleans, MAHONEY is a local advocate of VVAW, and [redacted] had shown interest in high school Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) in 1969.) U

moved to a radical-revolutionary position. It maintained a national office at 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois, until February, 1970. Internal factionalism during 1969 produced three main factions: Weatherman, Revolutionary Youth Movement (RYM), and Worker Student Alliance (WSA). The Weather and RYM no longer consider themselves associated with the SDS. The WSA faction continues to use the name SDS.

Weatherman, formerly a faction of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), controlled the SDS National Office from June, 1969, until its closing in February, 1970. Weatherman then entered an underground status and adopted a tactic of "strategic sabotage," with police and military installations designated as primary targets.

Worker Student Alliance (WSA), a faction of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), was expelled from SDS in June, 1969, by the then dominant Weatherman faction, but continued to use the name SDS and opened an office in Cambridge, Massachusetts. WSA aligned ideologically with the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) and, in February, 1971, moved to Chicago, Illinois, where it opened the SDS National Office at 1225 South Wabash Street.

The Progressive Labor Party (PLP) was founded in 1962 by individuals expelled from the Communist Party, USA, for following the Chinese communist line. Its objective is the establishment of a militant working-class movement based on Marxism-Leninism and MAO Tse-tung thought.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR (VVAW)

b7D [redacted] After a few minutes of background discussion led by [redacted] the group moved to the Alumni House, where the Mexican military were to visit the following day. When the group reached the Alumni House, several unidentified students suggested that the group stage a guerrilla theater, dressing as Viet Cong, and staging a mock attack on the House, using such things as water balloons filled with ketchup. U b7c On April 25, 1972, [redacted], Tulane University Security Office, advised that five Mexican Army Generals, escorted by one United States General from Washington, D. C., had been scheduled to visit Tulane University as part of a goodwill tour and to have tea at Tulane's Alumni House at 3:00 PM on April 24, 1972.

[redacted] had received reports of a student-planned anti-war protest demonstration taking the form of a "guerrilla theater," which was proposed to coincide with the appearance of the Mexican Generals.

b7c [redacted] advised that at 3:00 PM on April 24, 1972, when the Mexican Generals were being hosted by Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) officials at Tulane's Alumni House, about fifteen students sat in the street outside the House, some carrying homemade anti-war signs and some dressed in bits of military uniform. No leaflets or chants or actual picket marching was observed. No specific New Left or anti-war organization was noted as claiming sponsorship of the activity. None of the well-known local New Left activists were observed participating. No crowd was drawn, no untoward incidents occurred, no red balloons were noted, and no embarrassment materialized to the campus or for the visiting Generals. U

RE: DEMONSTRATION AT UNITED STATES
NAVY SUBMARINE BASE, GROTON,
CONNECTICUT, APRIL 25, 1972
SPONSORED BY THE VIETNAM VETERANS
AGAINST THE WAR

On April 21, 1972, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the Connecticut Chapter of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) plans a demonstration at the United States Navy Submarine Base, Groton, Connecticut. The VVAW is appealing to college students and anti-war groups to join the protest.

The VVAW was founded in the Spring of 1967 by six young Vietnam veterans in New York City. At the beginning of 1968, with 600 members, VVAW opened a national office, founded the first GI newspaper "Vietnam GI", and sent close to 500 veterans into the McCarthy campaign to beat down the red baiters. After getting gassed at the Democratic Convention in Chicago and caught in the general "down" of the peace movement, VVAW was nearly inactive until the moratoriums in the Fall of 1969. Members of the VVAW led student strikes on major campuses across the country and hatted Veterans Administration Hospital authorities over threats to throw amputee Vietnam veterans out for signing anti-war petitions. At present, membership of the VVAW nationally consists of 8,500 members.

At 11:30 a.m., on April 25, 1972, a group of demonstrators under the direction of JOHN R. SMITH, a

At 12:40 p.m., about 19 demonstrators took up positions at two entrance lanes and one exit lane of the main gate at this base. The demonstrators sat on the pavement and blocked traffic, causing traffic to be rerouted to other gates.

Two demonstrators took similar positions and blocked traffic at the north gate of the base. Both were arrested by the Connecticut State Police and charged with disorderly conduct. They are identified as [REDACTED] b7c
